Description :

- INTERMAC GENIUS 37 CT Shape Glass Cutting Line - 3700 x 2700 mm

This line is ideal for companies which require machining tools which are used to process large volumes that can withstand high production loads, and working two or three shifts.

A motorized gantry axis system moves the cutting bridge, and ensures maximum precision and stability during machining. The working head is equipped with a laser reader that automatically detects the position of the sheet on the work table and also acts as a double zero for cutting laminated glass. In addition, it can be used for digitalizing templates and models positioned on the work table.

The working head is equipped with an automatic cutting pressure management mechanism that enables the force exerted by the wheel to be adjusted correctly, from the beginning to the end of the cutting operation.

Cutting line consists of (3) working stations:
